

Writing Prompt

The Periodic Table of the Elements is a tool used by many scientists to understand the physical world.

Think of a minimum of three major principles that are necessary for understanding the periodic table.

Now write an explanation you would give to a newly enrolled student in this class that elaborates on how the periodic table is structured AND how it might be used by a scientist in designing new materials.